

22. Dog & Cat Chase

Have students sit in a circle. The teacher walks around the outside of the circle patting the on the head saying "dog" each time. Suddenly, the teacher says "cat" as s/he touches a student's head and then that student must chase the teacher around the circle. The teacher must try to sit in the student's spot before being tagged by the chasing student. If the teacher is tagged s/he must touch the heads again. If the teacher makes it back without being touched then the chasing student walks around the circle touching heads. This can be done with any variation of pair words (e.g. big & small, happy & sad, can, can't, etc.)
